OUTLOOK Asian equity markets ended mostly in green on Tuesday, with upbeat corporate earnings results from the United States. Though, some gains were capped by ongoing concerns about the simmering trade war between China and the United States. Meanwhile, Iranian President Hassan Rouhani dismissed calls for talks with the US as the first phase of sanctions came into effect overnight. Rouhani said that America 'cannot be trusted' and wants to 'create chaos in Iran'. Chinese shares bounced back on bargain hunting after recent steep losses on concerns about the impact of trade war on businesses. Further, Japanese shares ended higher as Chinese markets rebounded and heavyweight SoftBank posted strong first-quarter results. Meanwhile, former chief economic advisor, Kaushik Basu has said that in the event of US-China currency war there will be a sideline effect on India and a depreciation of the rupee, which, if managed well by policymakers, will be good for the country. He also said that the rupee is overvalued and the fair value of the local currency is 70-71 to a greenback. He added that the widening current account deficit (CAD) and higher interest rates have made the rupee the worst among its Asian peers so far this year. European markets were trading in green; UK's FTSE 100 rose by 47.24 points or 0.61% to 7,711.02, France's CAC added 38.85 points or 0.70% to 5,516.03 and Germany's DAX was up by 46.75 points or 0.37% to 12,662.51.

TRADING STRATEGY: As on (30/07/2018)

BEAR PUT SPREAD:

The bear put spread option trading strategy is employed when the options trader thinks that the price of the underlying asset will go down moderately in the near term.

Bear put spreads can be implemented by buying a higher striking in-the-money put option and selling a lower striking out-of-the-money put option of the same underlying security with the same expiration date. Bear Put Spread Construction...

Buy 1 ITM Put Sell 1 OTM Put

By shorting the out-of-the-money put, the options trader reduces the cost of establishing the bearish position but forgoes the chance of making a large profit in the event that the underlying asset price plummets. The bear put spread options strategy is also known as the bear put debit spread as a debit is taken upon entering the trade. The formula for calculating maximum profit is given below:

Max Profit = Strike Price of Long Put - Strike Price of Short Put - Net Premium Paid - Commissions Paid
Max Profit Achieved When Price of Underlying <= Strike Price of Short Put

EXECUTION: BUY NIFTY 11300 PUT AROUND 120-115 AND SELL NIFTY 11100 PUT AROUND 75. TGT 65-85-122 SI as per traders risk appetite
